

Social Media in HR Summit

27th – 28th September 2012

Dublin, Ireland

Description 1:

In order to bridge the gap between the niche area and the obvious real-life practice, this 2-day conference has gathered highly qualified experts in the strategic communications industry to discuss social engagement, recruitment futurology, digital networks, social media footprints, risks and exploitation of social media strategies. Conference will be complemented with a special feature, crowd competence sourcing – session via a built-in unconference.

Description 2:

At this 2-day conference participants will have the opportunity to discuss social engagement, recruitment futurology, digital networks, social media footprints, risks and exploitation of social media strategies with highly qualified experts in the strategic communications industry and new media. Presentations will be complemented with case studies, focused panel discussions and an unconference session, a special feature.
